Modern Slavery & Human Trafficking Policy Statement

Threepwood Consulting is a professional consultancy services business. We currently employ and will seek to recruit professional consultants and support staff who hold the requisite professional qualifications through a controlled selection process that ensures legitimacy. We have a small number of UK suppliers that provide specialist support and services. Suppliers are assessed and approved in line with our quality management system. We neither provide nor purchase products or services that are associated with modern slavery or human trafficking. We will raise any suspected occurrences of modern slavery and human trafficking with the relevant authorities.
